

CAMP RANDALL ROWING CLUB

JUNIOR CODE OF CONDUCT

CRRC aims to offer excellent rowing programs. The opportunity to participate is a privilege extended to all students. But with the right to participate comes the responsibility of managing one's behavior in a way that is appropriate for the program and that positively represents CRRC. For this reason, students and parent/guardians are asked to read and agree to the expectations of behavior and consequences for misbehavior below.

Student Behaviors:

DO :

1. Follow directions of adult chaperone, team leader or coaches.
2. Respect the property and facilities being used.
3. Use words that encourage others.
4. Be prompt in arriving at your program.
5. Treat other students with respect.
6. Remain in your program for the complete time.
7. In competition, practice good sportsmanship.
8. Use equipment appropriately.
9. Have fun!

DON'T:

1. Refuse to cooperate or disrespectfully treat adult chaperone, team leader.
2. Vandalize or damage property.
3. Use inappropriate language (swearing) or volume.
4. Be late or inappropriate in the boathouse.
5. Be verbally and/or physically aggressive with others.
6. Leave programs without permission.
7. Taunt, harass or threaten others.
8. Endanger self or others.
9. Prevent others from having fun.

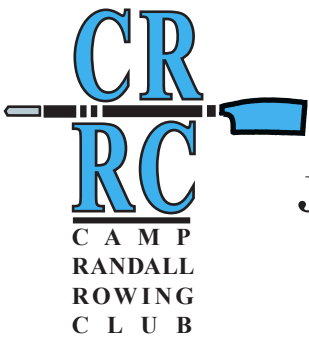

Consequences for Misbehavior:

Depending on how serious the misbehavior is, students may need to miss part of a program activity, be suspended from the rowing program for a time period, or miss regattas or other crew activities. Adult chaperones and team leaders will report all discipline situations to the coaching staff. When students are suspended from rowing activities, they will need to agree to conditions before they are allowed to re-enter a program. When serious misbehaviors occur, students will be required to bring home a form for parent/guardians to review, sign and return as soon as possible. Failure to return the form will result in the student not being allowed to participate in their program.

CRRC wants its rowing programs to be fun places to learn important things. Students' positive attitudes, sense of fairness and respect, and desire to cooperate make a big difference in the quality of the activities.

Together we can make CRRC the best!

JUNIOR CODE OF CONDUCT- CONTINUED

Prologue:

The Juniors involved in the development of the Code of Conduct elected to draft a Junior Honor Agreement. The purpose of the Junior Honor Agreement is to encourage junior rowers to responsibly participate in CRRC without the structure of an official Code of Conduct.

Agreement:

As competitive rowers, we shall refrain from taking part in any activity that negatively affects the team, whether it is the use of tobacco, alcohol, illegal substances, absence from practice, a lack of effort or unsportsmanlike behavior toward a competitor, coach, or teammate.

Disrespectful conduct, as well as the use of tobacco, alcohol or illegal substances which impacts a rower's performance and relationship with the team will not be tolerated.

Rowing is a sport that requires much time and effort. Without consistent attendance and solid effort excellence in competition is unattainable. As intense competitors, we understand emotional outbursts, but disrespectful or unsportsmanlike behavior reflects poorly on the club.

As junior rowers we recognize that there is no excuse for any of this behavior. We commit ourselves to follow the Standards of Behavioral Expectations for CRRC and as teammates we shall attempt to help those who have difficulty following this agreement.
